Joining LinkedIn for Members of the CGPA Canadian Group Psychotherapy Association

LinkedIn Groups is a great way for organizations to keep in touch with their members about current events and to discuss issues of common interest. It is an amazing way to connect with other professionals working in the field. LinkedIn also provides a great locale for discussion topics, announcements and communication,

What is LinkedIn and why is it important to the CGPA?

LinkedIn is a social media site geared toward professionals. On LinkedIn professionals have the option to include information on their work experience, interests as well as can join groups or follow different companies and organizations that are interesting to them. LinkedIn also provides a contact card for people to get in touch with you professionally.

LinkedIn allows users to customize their profile. You can choose to “Edit” your profile to reflect the information you like. You can also choose to “Join” Groups or “Follow” companies you are interested in.

How can LinkedIn help me stay connected with events and members of the CGPA?

Part of the CGPA initiative this year has been to create a space on social media where the public can learn about CGPA events as well as where members and interested practitioners of Group Therapy can discuss, announce and keep in touch with one another.

How do I create an account on LinkedIn?
